

ABOUT US

CAT's College & Adult Program (CAP)

The CAP team provides education-through-theatre workshops, skill building activities, and interactive drama strategies. The team facilitates a participant-centered process to examine issues and behaviors that affect our everyday lives. These interactive sessions encourage participants to carefully examine the choices, decisions and consequences of various topics to promote problem solving, critical thinking, decision-making and self-advocacy skills that provide a platform to effectively resolve conflict and address social or academic issues. Through this method, students gain the capacity to raise awareness, discover solutions and develop alternative options to address the challenges presented.

ABOUT CAT Using the power of drama to change lives. WHO WE ARE: Founded in 1974, CAT is an educational outreach program at The City University of New York (CUNY), and in partnership with CUNY's School of Professional Studies, offers the nation's first M.A. in Applied Theatre – using theatre to facilitate, educate and activate. WHAT WE DO: Theatre cultivates a unique skill set that is indispensable for the 21st Century – primarily communication, collaboration, critical thinking and creativity. CAT enriches the lives of our participants through a pedagogy which combines educational drama strategies with research-based educational theories and practices to create participant-centered, interactive drama experiences. The needs, strengths and learning styles of participants inform the actual content of workshops. CAT offers a diverse array of programs for traditional and non-traditional populations. With four decades of dedicated school and community partnerships, youth and professional development programs, and our award-winning Youth Theatre, CAT has reached over a million students, educators, parents, community members and teaching artists in New York City, across the nation and around the world.

AVAILABLE WORKSHOPS INCLUDE:

A-GAME (Academic Enhancement)

Higher education is available, yet many have not taken advantage of it. This session engages participants through drama and skill-building activities to explore individual strengths and what it takes to succeed academically. Through this collective process, participants will discover strategies and resources to support their academic excellence.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH—TITLE IX (Sexual Harassment)

CUNY's policies prohibit sexual harassment and sexual violence of any kind. Through participatory strategies, this workshop will raise awareness of the boundaries, resources and protocol of Title IX policies in order to co-exist and be productive in a safe and secure academic environment.

"WHERE DOES MY MONEY GO?" (Financial Awareness)

Money is hard to manage, especially in one of the most expensive cities in the country. What are our attitudes regarding financial literacy and how we make and keep our money? We will explore these questions and expose what the wealthy already know about making and managing money, through interactive activities in this participatory workshop.

COMBAT CULTURE XL (Violence Prevention)

The inability to cope with war, gun violence, hate crimes and injustice has caused attitudes and behaviors that have negative effects on our society. This workshop examines the origins and consequences of a volatile environment and explores the skills needed to problem solve and prevent adverse consequences.

LAND OF THE FREE... (Health and Wellness)

How do we take care of ourselves as our mental, physical and emotional health are affected by struggles with education, healthcare, inequality, politics? This workshop explores the myths and challenges of living in a world in crisis. Through interactive drama strategies we'll raise awareness, discover meaningful solutions and define what it takes to be healthy in America today.

TECHNOLOGY TURMOIL (Communication)

Living online has become our societal norm. Technology has advanced faster than we can comprehend. Instant access, cyber-socialization and screen addiction are part of our everyday lives. We become vulnerable to a plethora of social issues that can hurt us. Join us as we explore solutions and best practices to effectively navigate the pros and cons of life in a cyber world.

PARENTING IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Parenting in today's society presents many challenges never imagined by former generations. This interactive workshop addresses common obstacles, including violence prevention, peer pressure, the generation gap, technology, risky behavior, and academic challenges, while exploring alternatives to reach positive outcomes.

COLLEGE READINESS

College and Career Exploration

How does a high school senior prepare for college? This interactive session helps participants make better choices in their college and major selection for a future career. Through drama and skill-building activities, participants will discover the options and resources available to help them make informed decisions in their college and career exploration.

Overcoming Barriers (Conflict Resolution)

The process of graduating high school and entering college is filled with obstacles; however, with the right guidance, students can better navigate those challenges by accessing the right resources. This session helps students critically think about the choices, decisions and consequences of their own actions in terms of communication, resilience and self-efficacy to achieve their goals.
