

The Creative Arts Team at the City University of New York (CUNY) Presents

Sound Thinking NYC is a free three-week long Summer Intensive that opens doors for young women to explore careers in the music industry.

The program is for students who will be entering 11th or 12th grade in fall 2018. All students who are interested in supporting gender equity in music are encouraged to apply.

Sound Thinking NYC leverages your passion for music into a possible career. You will learn about audio engineering, music production, sound design, and audio technology while building leadership skills, critical thinking and strategies for fulfilling goals.

IMPORTANT DATES [2018]

May 21	Student applications due (submitted online or downloadable form to be mailed)
May 30	Decisions are made and parents/students are contacted from May 11th-30th.
June (TBD)	Mandatory orientation at the Creative Arts Team at CUNY
July 9	First day of program at the Creative Arts Team
July 27	Last day of Summer Intensive and program graduation

Location: The Creative Arts Team at CUNY 101 W. 31st Street, 6th Floor, New York, NY 10001 with field trips to sites throughout the city, including recording studios, theatres, museums and more.

Dates and Hours: The three-week program is from July 9th to July 27th, 2018. Monday-Friday, 9:00am-3:00pm. Summer Intensive graduates will be invited to school year activities and invited to apply for paid internships in summer 2019.

Lunch and Transportation will be provided for each participant.

To Apply: Applications and additional information available online. www.creativeartsteam.org/programs/sound-thinking-nyc

Funded by the Mayor's Office of Media and Entertainment, as part of a series of initiatives targeting the underrepresentation of women in media industries, Sound Thinking NYC Summer Intensive is presented by the Creative Arts Team, developed with New York Is Music

