

THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
CREATIVE ARTS TEAM
 PRESENTS
SOUND THINKING NYC ♦ SUMMER INTENSIVE 2018

CUNY-CAT Launches Sound Thinking NYC

Sounding Thinking NYC is funded by the Mayor's Office for Media and Entertainment (MOME) as part of a series of initiatives targeting the under-representation of women in entertainment.

The Sound Thinking NYC Summer Intensive is a free program that runs from July 9th to July 27th, 2018, and is for young people—especially young women—to explore career opportunities in the music industry.

Sound Thinking NYC leverages your passion for music as you explore how to turn that passion into a possible career. You will learn about audio engineering, music production, sound design, and audio technology—directly from educators and professionals in music, all with a cohort of carefully selected, motivated fellow students. The program also has a strong emphasis on building leadership skills and exploring strategies for fulfilling goals. For more info, visit www.soundthinkingnyc.org.

IMPORTANT 2018 DATES

May 4	Student applications due (via online or downloaded and mailed form, both available at www.soundthinkingnyc.org)
May 11 & after	Decisions are made and students/parents notified
June (TBD)	Mandatory orientation at the Creative Arts Team
July 9	First day of the Summer Intensive at CAT
July 27	Last day of the Summer Intensive & program graduation

LOCATION: The CUNY Creative Arts Team will be the home base for the program. The Summer Intensive includes field trips to sites throughout the city, including recording studios, theatres, museums and more.

CUNY Creative Arts Team: 101 W. 31st Street, 6th floor, New York, NY 10001

HOURS: Monday-Friday, 9:00AM-3:00PM

TRANSPORTATION: Each participant will receive weekly Metrocards to be used during the program dates only. Lost or stolen Metrocards will not be replaced.

LUNCH: Free, healthy lunches will be provided during the program.

TO APPLY: Applications and additional information is available online. Visit:

www.SoundThinkingNYC.org

Sounding Thinking NYC is a new program of the CUNY Creative Arts Team, in partnership with NY Is Music, funded by the Mayor's Office for Media and Entertainment (MOME).

